Publications:

I am also an author and illustrator of children books for the past 20 years. Most of my books are in the form of poetry or play. And some of them are educational. I have been writing innovative and attractive books for children. For example audio books, the books combined with puppets and pop-ups. I also recently wrote a book with creative designs of animals for making pop-up and animated cards, which I am pursuing for publication. I use the ways that make a book more interesting for children. I love children and my effort is to make a nice world for them.
